PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Dated: June 11, 2007

I. INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to Rule 14.3 of the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (“PG&E”) and Southern California Edison Company (“SCE”)<sup>1</sup> submit these comments on the Proposed Decision of Administrative Law Judge Mattson, entitled “Opinion on Petition for Modification of Decision 04-06-014 Regarding Process for Changing, and Lifting Restrictions on, Designated Standard Terms and Conditions” (the “PD”). PG&E and SCE request that the Commission withdraw the PD to allow the Commission to consider an amendment to the original petition for modification, which PG&E and SCE intend to file this week. Consideration of the amended petition will provide the most efficacious means of resolving the concerns identified in the PD, which in turn will facilitate ongoing and time-critical negotiations and contract formation necessary to attain the Renewables Portfolio Standard (“RPS”) program goals. Withdrawal of the PD and consideration of the amended petition would thus best promote timely progress towards the Commission’s RPS goals.

II. DISCUSSION

The standard terms and conditions for RPS contracts were adopted in Decision (“D.”) 04-06-014. As explained in that decision, these standard terms and conditions were intended to be “year one” provisions.<sup>2</sup> In that decision, and in the rulings leading up to it, the expectation that RPS contracting experience could demonstrate the need to revisit and revise the standard terms and conditions was stated explicitly.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Pursuant to Rule 1.8(d) of the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure, SCE has authorized PG&E to execute this pleading on its behalf.

<sup>2</sup> D.04-06-014 at p. 6 (stating “our purpose here is to develop a ‘year one’ contract to enable the RPS solicitation to move forward, and we expect that the contract language will become more refined as the parties and the Commission gain further experience.”)

<sup>3</sup> Id.; see also Joint Ruling of Assigned Commissioner and Administrative Law Judge Regarding Procedure for Adoption of Standard Terms and Conditions, at p. 6 (Mar. 8, 2004)(the “Joint Ruling”).

The PD does not examine RPS contracting experience, nor determine whether that experience merits changes to the standard terms and conditions adopted by D. 04-06-014; it merely lays out potential procedural options to do so. This is not the timely response needed to address the undisputed RPS contracting concerns described in PG&E and SCE’s Joint Petition for Modification (the “Petition”) and corroborated by the responses that were filed on the Petition.<sup>4</sup> To facilitate and expedite negotiations, PG&E and SCE ask that the Commission withdraw the PD and instead consider the amended petition for modification they will file shortly.

A. The Undisputed RPS Contracting Concerns Merit Prompt Action

The RPS contracting experience of both PG&E and SCE confirm the Commission’s prediction of the potential need for changing the standard terms and conditions, and both PG&E and SCE have heard repeatedly from renewables developers that the standard terms and conditions, particularly those designated as “may not be modified” in D. 04-06-014,<sup>5</sup> stand in the way of contract formation. PG&E and SCE filed the joint Petition for Modification (the “Joint Petition”)<sup>6</sup> to bring these concerns to the Commission’s attention, in compliance with Commission’s request that they “focus on seeking and signing the best possible contracts for renewable energy,”<sup>7</sup> rather than expending time and resources that do not forward that goal.

The Joint Petition sought a broadly-applicable resolution of stakeholder concerns, including those of developers and financers, that outdated and inflexible standard terms and conditions delay negotiations and impede contract formation. Although the parties can address these concerns through the negotiation of terms that are commercially acceptable to both parties, substantive changes from the “non-modifiable terms” require regulators and staff to address terms and conditions that are mutually agreeable to the parties on a case-by-case basis. This is an inefficient use of the Commission’s resources and adds time, complexity, and uncertainty to the RPS contract approval process for all parties. None of these outcomes furthers the Commission’s goal of encouraging RPS development.

The near-uniform support for the Joint Petition by renewable energy developers confirms that standard terms and conditions pose a serious problem that is in need of a remedy.<sup>8</sup> Nonetheless, and despite the Commission’s anticipation in D. 04-06-014 that standard terms and conditions would likely need to be revised over time, the PD would take no affirmative action to even inquire into the issues raised by the Joint Petition. The PD’s suggestion that parties could file a motion to initiate consideration of these issues on the merits does not directly address the pressing, real-world issues and concerns raised in the Joint Petition, and would produce delays, uncertainty and frustration that would unnecessarily detract from efforts to achieve RPS goals.

PG&E and SCE are prepared to address the PD’s concerns to ensure that the Commission can redress this on-going problem, which disproportionately hinders the RPS contracting that the <sup>8</sup> IEP Response at p. 2; CEERT Response at p. 5. The PD notes that PG&E and SCE did not provide formal evidence of its undisputed descriptions of the RPS contracting experience; although undisputed representations are generally not required to have formal evidentiary support and are certainly adequate to constitute a sufficient administrative record to form the basis of a Commission decision, the PD is correct that the literal provisions of Rule 16.3(b) are to the contrary. PG&E and SCE intend to cure that concern through submission of an amended petition, which would provide greater administrative efficiency, a more proportional and just result, and, most importantly, would allow the Commission to directly and expeditiously address the very real underlying problems that threaten to slow RPS contract formation and deter progress on the Commission’s RPS goals.

Commission has identified as a very high priority. By withdrawing the PD and considering the amended petition for modification, the Commission will be able to act promptly to eliminate unnecessary barriers to progress towards meeting RPS goals.

B. The RPS Program Would Not Benefit From Adoption of the PD

PG&E and SCE have several additional concerns regarding the lack of foundation, departure from precedent, and propriety of the PD. These concerns should be given consideration if the Commission declines to withdraw the PD, as PG&E and SCE strongly recommend.

1. The PD, Without Justification, Departs From Precedent and Needlessly Limits the Commission’s Statutory Authority. The PD’s fourth Conclusion of Law, claiming that “unlimited negotiation of . . . non-modifiable STCs is inconsistent with the Commission’s interpretation and implementation of STCs, as required under law,” is without any support in the record and inconsistent with prior rulings. Nowhere in the Commission’s precedent on this issue, in the administrative record, or in the PD itself, does the Commission state that it interprets the statutory requirement to adopt standard terms and conditions<sup>9</sup> as requiring any limit on negotiation of such terms and conditions. In fact, the Assigned Commissioner and the presiding Administrative Law Judge reached the opposite conclusion, in a ruling leading up to D. 04-06-014, finding that the potential of allowing negotiation on all standard terms and conditions “had merit” and could be considered at a later time.<sup>10</sup> There is nothing in the statute that requires the Commission to adopt standard terms and conditions that are non-negotiable, and there is no reason, nor anything on the record, that would justify the PD's limitation on the Commission's authority.

2. The PD, Without Proper Foundation, States Conclusions That Standard Terms and Conditions Continue to Provide “Reasonable Flexibility” and Contracts that “Work.” The PD's claim that the standard terms and conditions provide “reasonable flexibility”<sup>11</sup> is simply not supported by the current record. The Joint Petition has identified issues that the responses of both CEERT and IEP have agreed need to be redressed; the existence of these concerns with the present standard terms and conditions is thus supported by both buyers and sellers and disputed by no party. The Commission has no recent evidence that the standard terms and conditions continue to promote RPS goals in proportion to whatever benefits they were originally intended to convey, and has no basis to make a finding of fact that their flexibility is “reasonable.” The Commission has previously made clear that the parties' contracting experience is critical to evaluating standard terms and conditions. At the time that the Commission adopted standard terms and conditions, it expressly reaffirmed its prior conclusion that “[t]he type and level of detail that is required for fully developing standard terms and conditions is something that falls better within the ability of the parties to determine, rather than the Commission.”<sup>12</sup> The PD gives no justification for departing from the Commission's view on this point.

The PD's repeated claim that the standard terms and conditions create a contract that “works,” or whose terms “work together,”<sup>13</sup> is also inconsistent with RPS contracting experience

and without any foundation in the record that actually reflects experience with either contract formation or contract administration. The experiences of both PG&E and SCE are to the contrary, and no parties have suggested that their contract formation or contract administration experience demonstrates that the current standard terms and conditions work well together, or contribute towards RPS CONTRACTs that work better than they might in the absence of such terms.

For these reasons, the PD is arbitrary, contrary to law, unsupported by the findings, and, if adopted as a Commission decision, subject to reversal under Public Utilities Code Section 1757(a). Rather than pursue this PD, particularly when much of its reasoning is based on its view that the relief then requested by Joint Petition was insufficiently supported by the uncontested descriptions of RPS contracting experience, PG&E and SCE believe that the RPS program will be better served by consideration of the amended petition that they will file later this week.

III. CONCLUSION

PG&E and SCE strongly recommend that the Commission withdraw the PD to allow consideration of an amended petition that will satisfy the concerns raised in the PD. The Commission's RPS goals can only be met through expedited and efficient completion of RPS CONTRACTs. All parties that contributed to or commented on the Joint Petition, buyers and sellers alike, agree that greater flexibility is needed for that very purpose.

The amended petition, which PG&E and SCE will file later this week, will provide the Commission the opportunity to take stock of RPS contracting experience and to adjust the course to ensure that standard terms and conditions serve their intended purpose -- to aid RPS contracting and promote RPS goals, rather than deter them. The opportunity to efficiently improve RPS contracting and promote rapid attainment of RPS goals, in a timely fashion supported by both buyers and sellers, surely provides a very strong basis for the Commission to grant this limited request.
